Andhra on top again, UP soars to 2nd spot

The finance minister added that Aatmanirbhar Bharat will lead to greater export competitiveness, better pricing and quality of exports, which show the Indian skill of making things to perfection. Speaking on this occasion, commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal said: "We are looking at a digital platform where all central, state and local approvals get captured on a single website through a single payment gateway, thereby further improving the ease of doing business."

However, the ranking in ease of doing business is an assessment of how the states fare in implementing an action plan adopted by them with the help of the Centre within a particular time-frame. It doesn't, however, accurately reflect the level of business-conducive nature of the states, based on historical progress or backwardness on this parameter. Nevertheless, it reflects the willingness of states to improve their business climate to attract investors.

Interestingly, while the average score of states in 2015, when such rankings were introduced, was just 32%, it has steadily improved to touch 62% in 2019. Notably, five of the seven states with the lowest income levels in India have grabbed a place in the top ten. The low-income states that have scored well are: Uttar Pradesh (2nd), Madhya Pradesh (fourth position), Jharkhand (at number 5), Chhattisgarh (sixth spot) and Rajasthan (8th rank). This time, the 180 reform issues covered areas such as construction permit, land availability, enforcement of contracts and commercial dispute resolution, environmental registration, labour regulations, online tax returns filing, inspection reforms, access to information and transparency and single-window facilities.

should also be no doubt about our determination to protect India's sovereignty and territorial integrity". He categorically conveyed India's position on the developments along the Line of Actual Control (LAC) including in the Galwan Valley in the Western Sector of the India-China border areas in the last few months". Sources familiar with details of the Moscow meeting said Singh told the Chinese that "India will not cede an inch of land and we are determined to protect the integrity and sovereignty of our country at all costs". An officer in the defence establishment said the Chinese request for a meeting with Singh was the third such request in the last 80 days, and was "accentuated by the occupation of strategic points and heights by our armed forces in the last week of August".

The Chinese statement mentioned that Wei suggested both sides "maintain communication at all levels including between the two ministers". Singh, on his part, conveyed to the Chinese that both sides "should continue their discussions, including through diplomatic and military channels, to ensure complete disengagement and de-escalation and full restoration of peace and tranquillity along the LAC at the earliest".

The Chinese statement too said "it is hoped that the two sides will adopt a responsible attitude to achieve full disengagement of front-line forces as soon as possible, avoid taking measures that escalate or complicate the situation, prevent differences from becoming disputes, and push the relations between the two countries and the armed forces back on track as soon as possible". It asked India to "strictly abide by the series of agreements reached by the two sides, effectively strengthen the control of the front-line forces, refrain from provoking the current Line of Actual Control, refrain from any actions that may cause the situation to heat up, and refrain from deliberately hyping and disseminating negative information". It said both sides should "focus on the overall situation of Sino-Indian relations and regional peace and stability, work together and meet each other halfway, push the current situation to cool down as soon as possible, and maintain peace and tranquillity in the Sino-Indian border area".

apps in July, which were proxies of the earlier banned apps. Though Section 69A of the Information Technology Act gives the government blanket powers to block apps/contents which are seen to be engaged in activities prejudicial to sovereignty and integrity of the country, its defence, security of state and public order, nevertheless it gives rise to a perception that the law is being used indiscriminately.

Is online gaming the new battleground for telcos?

The top player, which is Dream 11, and the next four-five players control 95% of the market share. Except for some states that do not allow online fantasy sports (OFS), everywhere else this particular model is designated as a game of skill. So the regulatory position is pretty clear. There are around 700 million smartphone users in India, of which 400-500 million could be the potential market for OFS. As per KPMG, in the next two-three years, the user base for OFS will reach 1.50-2.00 million in India. These are all monetisable users unlike the casual games where monetisation is difficult. Once that scale is reached, it will become an attractive market for international players like Draft-Kings. Around 20-25% of the users on OFS are paid users compared to 1-2% of paid users for casual gaming.

India can attract auto cos moving out of China: Siam

Such similar steps could also be taken up with South Korea, USA and European countries, while asking component makers to go for "maximum localisation of inner parts and raw material in line with Aatmanirbhar Bharat". Stating that SIAM sourcing group has identified four categories of components — electronics, some grades of steel, tooling and electric vehicles components — where imports should be converted to local, he said, "We would request you (component makers) to take leadership and assume responsibility for localisation of these components."

Stricter law not knee-jerk bans needed to ensure data privacy

Such a provision would make functioning of Chinese apps difficult in the country and if they want to be present in the Indian market, they would have to meet these guidelines right from the beginning.

At the moment, the government does not have any information regarding how many Chinese apps are available to be downloaded by consumers within the country. This is quite apparent from the way it has been banning Chinese apps ever since border tensions with China erupted. For instance, on September 2 the government banned 118 Chinese mobile apps, including popular gaming platform PUBG as well as Baidu, which is China's largest search engine provider. This was the third instance of it banning Chinese apps since the Indo-China border skirmish erupted. The government had first banned 59 apps, including TikTok, WeChat, etc., on June 29, and followed it up by banning another set of 47
